

G.O.T. PREPAREDNESS™

What makes this learning platform better than others?

Kiernan Group Holdings is comprised of pracademics, practitioners with earned experience supported by academic rigor, who have taught Active Assailant prevention and planning to thousands of companies and individuals around the world. These years of experience were harnessed and funneled into the development of this state-of-the-art adult learning method.

Is there any requirement that my company offer Active Threat training?

OSHA's General Duty Clause, Section 5(a)(1) states: Employers are required to provide their employees with a place of employment that "is free from recognizable hazards that are causing or likely to cause death or serious harm". Case law from Hennepin County, Minnesota in 2013, broadened the term "recognizable hazards" to include the active shooter threat. Our platform provides a suite of audit-ready analytic tools that can be used to provide evidence of compliance.

How does this training work?

After seats are purchased, employees are each assigned their own, unique login credentials. Training is then accessed online. The training is composed of four modules that are about ten to twelve minutes in length. There are interactive Checks on Learning incorporated into each module. After all four modules are completed there is a final exam on the information presented. With the successful completion of the modules and passing the final exam, the employee is granted a dated certificate that can be printed and retained within your training files.

How can I be sure that my employees complete the training?

Your company's portal provides you with a variety of analytic tools to assess your employees' progress. From the administrative dashboard you can see which employees have initiated training, identify knowledge gaps, and print completion certificates for your records. All data can be easily exported for your records as well.

How long does this training take?

Our Active Threat Readiness (ATR) course takes approximately one hour to successfully complete.

Is there a help desk?

Yes, we offer a full-service help desk, to answer any questions and to customize your account setup and portal page.

Why now?

Active assailants are top of mind for most Americans and FBI statistics have clearly indicated a rise in active assailant events. The threat is real, pervasive, and debilitating. We believe that individuals are always the initial responders in a catastrophic event and by receiving training which transcends the workplaces, they can replace fear with confidence, should an ordinary day become extraordinary.

What are the benefits to my company?

- Enhanced safety of your most important assets – your employees
- Compliance with OSHA standards
- Reduced corporate liability through documented training
- Access to continually updated, national level guidance resources
